Interested in learning more about how digital technologies are changing research and teaching in the humanities?

WHEN:
January 19-22, 2020

WHERE:
NYU Abu Dhabi

WEBSITE:
wp.nyu.edu/widh

CONTACT:
nyuad.widh@nyu.edu

---

The NYU Abu Dhabi Winter Institute in Digital Humanities

The NYU Abu Dhabi Winter Institute in Digital Humanities (19-22 January 2020) is an event aimed at researchers and educators interested in the intersection of technology and the humanities. The Winter Institute will feature hands-on learning, presentations, cultural and academic visits as well as networking opportunities. The courses have a humanities orientation, but we welcome participants from other disciplines with shared interests.

Eight courses will be offered in 2020: Python Fundamentals for Humanities Research; Data in/and the Humanities; Digital Humanities in the Classroom; Open Forms of Knowledge; Object-Oriented Digital Humanities for Cultural Heritage; Image Analysis; Spatial Humanities; Text Analysis for Arabic.

Fees: early bird (by 31 October, 350 USD + 5% VAT) regular registration (by 1 December, 500 USD + 5% VAT). For more detailed course descriptions: wp.nyu.edu/widh/courses/.

Applications for the Winter Institute are being accepted now via the website.